MANSFIELD

He’s a statue now in some playground, For all the kids to see, A Goliath of power and beauty, Whose wheels were once so free. They have painted him up to catch the eye With a green and gold that gleam; But there’s no sadder sight to a driver Than an engine that’s got no steam

Poem by James Dunn, Station master at Cathkin
WALK, RIDE OR CYCLE
A trail for everyone
The Great Victorian Rail Trail is a multi-use trail and can be explored on foot, bike or horse. Experience the trail from a different perspective as you walk, cycle or ride your way through the Victorian countryside.

The trail is suitable for riders of all fitness levels and is the perfect way to enjoy the great outdoors with the kids. Gradients are mostly gentle with a few longer climbs to keep things interesting. The highest point along the trail is 397 metres at Merton Gap and the steepest climb is from Alexandra to Eglinton Cutting, though the view from the top is well worth the effort.

Trail surface
The trail surface varies along the 134 kilometres journey and is made up of either compacted gravel (chert) or granitic sand. The granitic sand is used in sections that are shared use between walkers, cyclists and horses. Signs mark the way for horses where a dedicated bridle path follows beside the gravel (chert) sections.

Mountain, hybrid or touring bikes are best suited for the trail surface. Over the page is a list of popular rides however if a shorter trip is more your style, there are many sections accessible from car parks and villages dotted along the rail trail.

Refer to the central map to locate toilets, bike repairs and other essentials.

Whether you have one hour, one day or a full week to spare you can enjoy the trail; wheel, shoe or hoof . . . you choose.

The development of colonial Australia can be traced through the development of its rail system. Railways influenced the fortunes of towns and regions; became the colony’s largest employer; transformed the relationship between town and country; and introduced new concepts of distance, time and comfort.

(Davison, 1998:547).

TALLAROOK
Nestled at the foot of the magnificent Tallarook Ranges, the quiet township of Tallarook has its history linked with the expanding railway network.

The town is on the northern slopes of the Great Dividing Range, on land that was once central to the territories of the Goulburn Aboriginal tribes, in whose language, Tallarook means ‘call of the wattle birds’.

Today Tallarook supports abundant wildlife and farming properties. The local vineyards are gaining an international reputation and provide the perfect place to unwind and explore.

The town is known in Australia for the colloquialism, “Things are crook in Tallarook”, believed to date to the Great Depression and unemployed travellers seeking work.

TRAWOOL
Originally named ‘Traawool’, the indigenous word for ‘wild water’, the district is dominated by agriculture and memorable scenery. First explored by Hume and Hovell in 1824; it was later settled as a large sheep station.

Development of the area improved with the building of the Trawool Railway Line to Yea in 1883.

In 1983, the National Trust awarded the area a Scenic Classification, recognising its importance as a scenic, geological, and cultural site, including the diversity of flora and fauna.

Bushwalking, sight-seeing, hang-gliding and rafting are all popular outdoor activities.

Ever since the early 1900’s Trawool has also been a destination for holiday makers from Melbourne enjoying its country charm and magnificent scenery. Nearby attractions include art galleries, wineries, national and state forests, historic buildings and restaurants.
SEYMOUR

Seymour provides facilities and accommodation for visitors and lies approximately 13 kilometres from the start of the Tallarook end of the Great Victorian Rail Trail. The town sits on the banks of the Goulburn River with the Tallarook Ranges as its backdrop. It is located at the junction of the Hume Freeway and Goulburn Valley Highway and is an important rural centre, servicing local farmers and the army town of Puckapunyal, where the Royal Australian Armoured Corps Memorial and Army Tank Museum is based. Seymour has an abundance of historic buildings and attractions. With its history married to that of the railway lines, Seymour boasts an impressive collection of heritage trains at the Railway Heritage Centre.

TOWNS and VILLAGES

YEA

North of the Great Divide, the township of Yea is nestled in a beautiful valley at the meeting of the Yea and Goulburn Rivers, just one and a half hour’s drive from Melbourne. Yea boasts historic buildings and a thriving main street with many pubs, restaurants and cafés. Take a stroll in Melbourne’s closest classified wetlands and learn about the unique flora and fauna.

The nearby Cheviot Tunnel, together with the heritage-listed Yea Railway Station, are timely reminders of the important role rail transport played in early settlement. The historic Railway Station built in 1889 is the most intact example of a small group of standard Gothic-styled railway station buildings. In the station precinct you will also find a playground, skate park, toilet facilities, picnic tables and BBQs.

CHEVIOT

Cheviot Station opened with the rail line in 1889 and was an important station to serve the local logging industry. Between Cheviot Station and Cheviot Tunnel, the line runs through four large cuttings. These are testament to the natural obstacles posed by this landscape.

Our History…… ‘The longest journey begins with the first step’

Located midway between Yea and Molesworth, the Cheviot Tunnel is the longest rail trail tunnel in Victoria and a key feature of the original Tallarook to Mansfield Railway Line.

Triumph and tragedy: The human cost of progress

The 201 metre (660’) long Cheviot Tunnel was constructed to pass trains across the Black Range at McLoughlin’s Gap roughly half way between Yea and Molesworth. Built under tender by Kenny Bros. as part of the Yea to Cathkin section at a cost of £88,661/2/11, the work was delayed by accidents, floods and several industrial disputes.

Some steel hooks, that held lanterns in emergencies, still exist near the four indented safety alcoves. These safety alcoves are located at regular intervals along the eastern wall of the tunnel. Some steel hooks, that held lanterns in emergencies, still exist near the four indented safety alcoves. These safety alcoves are located at regular intervals along the eastern wall of the tunnel.

The tunnel was constructed in 1889 from an estimated 675,000 handmade bricks using local clay. These clay bricks were sourced from Quinlan’s Pit in a nearby paddock just west of the tunnel.

DID YOU KNOW?

Cheviot Tunnel

Molesworth is located approximately 4.5 kilometres away from the Alexandra turnoff at Cathkin. Molesworth is a small town with a general store and country pub, with a large relaxing beer garden. It is also home to the Molesworth Wetlands.

Cathkin is the former junction station which linked the Mansfield Line with the Alexandra Line. The Cathkin platform still remains and the local Landcare Group have created a charming reserve providing a peaceful rest spot for rail trail users. Cathkin was home to the Railway Poet, James Dunn.

The trail runs behind the village of Yarck but it is worth riding the extra 100 metres to stop in the small village for a hot or cold beverage. Time your visit well and you could visit the monthly country market. Held on the 3rd Saturday of the month, the market provides an outlet for local produce, jams, craft, plants and wines, it also helps to fund maintenance of the town hall.

ALEXANDRA and surrounds

The locals lobbied hard in the 1880’s for the Alexandra Branch Line but were beaten by nature and the engineering realities of the hilly terrain and steep gradients that surround their township. It was not until September 1909 that the Alexandra Township Railway Extension was complete.

ALEXANDRA

Alexandra is a neat country town located in the foothills of the Great Dividing Range, 130 kilometres north east of Melbourne. The town’s history dates back to 1824, the same year Hume and Hovell crossed the Goulburn River.

The township of Alexandra began as a mining camp when gold was discovered in 1866 and 1867. Over time the emphasis changed to timber and agriculture and today tourism is a key contributor to the township’s economy.

Base yourself in Alexandra to explore nearby mountain ranges and waterways, but save time for discovering this quaint historic village.

Stroll along the wide tree-lined streets past the National Trust classified post office, national bank and law courts, and discover arts and crafts such as pottery and glassware in gift shops and galleries.

The former Alexandra Station is currently the home of the Alexandra Timber Tramway Museum and Historic Park. Revisit the past and discover artefact displays from the timber industry of the last century. Plan ahead by visiting their website www.alexandratramway.org.au.

Strolllea Country Estate

The market caters for all tastes and interests featuring local produce, unique handicrafts, bric-a-brac, collectables and auto parts. Enjoy a train ride around the historic Alexandra tramway. Markets run from September to May on the second Saturday of each month.

EILDON

Eildon is located approximately 24 kilometres from Alexandra (and the Great Victorian Rail Trail) and is a popular destination with water lovers. With numerous rivers and Lake Eildon on its doorstep, water-skiers, wake boarders, pleasure boaters and anglers share holidays with over 600 luxury ‘home away from home’ houseboats.

Lake Eildon has a shoreline of almost 600 kilometres, is one of the five premier lakes in Victoria and the Eildon Pondage is a prime fishing location. Lake Eildon National Park also offers great bushwalking, gold mining relics, lots of wildlife and pretty wild flowers, particularly in spring and early summer.

Trains, trunks and elephants

Jim Rae, Train Driver, drove the last Circus train to Alexandra in 1968. Wirth’s Circus had a 75 vehicle train which contained performer’s carriages and 5 elephant trucks. Twenty trucks were specially designed by Victorian Railways with a high roof. The elephants got into the trucks backwards so they would not take the roof off!

When the performances were finished the elephants pulled down the tent poles.

“Each animal had to have a handler, so the likes of the giraffes didn’t stick their heads out of the carriage truck and munch on leaves as the train sped past, Harry Close, Assist. Guardsman.”

The township of Alexandra began as a mining camp when gold was discovered in 1866 and 1867. The settlement that sprang up nearby was first known as the Red Gate Diggings.

This Rail Trail may be the longest in Victoria, but what sets it apart is diversity. The landscape constantly changes; woodland, rivers, lakes, open farmland, ranges, mountains, wetlands, towns and villages. You breathe it all in - the slower you travel the better!
The Great Victorian Rail Trail begins or ends at the old Mansfield Railway Station near the Visitor Information Centre. When departing from the station the first kilometre passes through the Mullum Wetlands, a habitat for local fauna and flora. This area includes raised walkways, a lookout and a bird hide.

MANSFIELD

A 2.5 hour drive from Melbourne, Mansfield is situated in Victoria’s breathtaking High Country. Encompassing mountains, rivers and lakes, the shire has a population of 7,527 and attracts approximately 1.2 million visitors each year – many of them visiting Mt Buller and Mt Stirling Resorts, Lake Eildon and the Alpine National Park.

The region developed quickly from the 1860’s, based largely on gold, timber harvesting and farming. Today, tourism, agriculture, light industrial and forestry related activities are the shire’s key industries, and the area is in high demand for recreation and lifestyle activities.

Home to Victoria’s traditional cattlemen and as an adventure sports haven, Mansfield combines the best of both world’s and will reward your efforts with either a fine local wine or an all-season adrenalin kick.

MERTON

Merton is a small town. Stretch your legs and wander through the area that is managed by Merton Landcare or continue along the trail to the historic Merton Cemetery.

Merton, Woodfield, Bonnie Doon, Maindample
BONNIE DOON

Heading east the trail runs between Lake Eildon and the Maroondah Highway and passes through the small village of Bonnie Doon. Bonnie Doon is a small town situated on the edge of Lake Eildon and is the gateway to the High Country. It is most well known these days as a holiday and weekend destination for bushwalkers, trail bike riders, off-road 4WD enthusiasts and fishermen.

The town centre has a collection of motels, hotel, caravan park, service station and cafes, providing the perfect opportunity to stay, refuel or stock up on supplies.

Having travelled through the township, the trail passes over the Bonnie Doon Bridge which is 385 metres long and provides a great vantage spot to stop and watch the activity on the lake.

MAINDAMPLE

The 14 kilometre section from Maindample to Mansfield takes in the magnificent scenery of the high country with Mt Buller, Mt Stirling and Timbertop clearly in sight as you head towards Mansfield.

Those in need of a refreshment can enjoy the country hospitality of the Maindample Whistle Stop, located right on the trail.

MANSFIELD ZOO

Home to Victoria’s only white lions, visitors can feed the monkeys, deer, kangaroos and many other animals. Guided Tours on weekends and holidays feature the feeding of our two magnificent lions. Open daily from 10am - 5.30/6pm. Closed Christmas Day.
